

DIXIE LEE JACKSON

Journalist and historian Debra Goodrich of Topeka will present "Dixie Lee Jackson's Guide to Cooking and Kissing" at the opening of the Kansas Division SCV Convention June 18, 2010 in Emporia, Kansas. Best Western Motel 3021 W. Highway 50

Goodrich combines her Southern roots with a lifetime of researching cooking and kissing to create the character of Dixie Lee Jackson. As this character, Goodrich has performed at several venues, including the Topeka Performing Arts Center. Goodrich is a journalist and historian with a career in publishing and broadcasting. She hosts her own online talk show on RadioRichardFriends.com, hosted a Topeka talk show on KMAJ 1440, has twice been a guest on CSpan, narrated 20 historic documentaries on topics from Jesse James to Abraham Lincoln, has spoken to hundreds of groups across the country and been a guest on numerous national talk shows. She received a bachelor of arts degree in history from Washburn in 1996.

The Friday evening performance will be a new beginning for the Kansas Division so don't miss out on this great event.

Registration is not necessary for the Friday evening event

Personal Letter from Dixie Lee

I sure do look forward to seeing you soon! Now, a little bit about myself: I grew up in Mayberry, yes, that Mayberry! Okay, actually, I grew up on a little farm just outside Mayberry, so the actual address would have been Mayberry RFD. Mayberry is famous for Andy, Barney, and Aunt Bea's cooking and hospitality. I am Mayberry's hospitality ambassador to the world, a veritable bubblebath of expertise--especially in the areas of cookin' and kissin'.
